DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-6 and 12-14, drawn to a composition comprising a monoclonal antibody, classified in class 530, subclass 388.1.
  - II. Claims 7-11, drawn to a composition comprising an isolated nucleic acid, classified in class 536, subclass 22.1.
  - III. Claims 15-19 and 32-35, drawn to a method and kit for diagnosing HIT/HITT in a mammal, classified in class 435, subclass 7.9.
  - IV. Claims 20-21, drawn to a method of identifying a functional element of an antibody, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
  - V. Claims 22-26 and 36-39, drawn to a method and kit for treating HIT/HITT in a mammal, classified in class 424, subclass 130.1.
  - VI. Claims 27-31, drawn to a method of identifying a compound which is a modulator of the specific binding of an antibody to a PF4/heparin complex, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different effects because they are directed to two separate and distinct products.

3. Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process such as affinity chromatography.

4. Inventions I and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process such as affinity chromatography.

5. Inventions I and V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process such as affinity chromatography.

Art Unit: 1641

6. Inventions I and VI are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process such as affinity chromatography.

7. Inventions II and III-VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation because the methods of Groups III-VI do not recite using the nucleic acid of Group II.

8. Inventions III-VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different effects because Groups III-VI are all directed to separate and distinct methods.

9. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for each of Groups I-VI are mutually exclusive of the inventions in the other groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1641

10. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

11. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).

12. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to James Grun whose telephone number is (703) 308-3980.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Long Le, can be reached on (703) 305-3399. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is (703) 308-4242.

Any inquiry of a general nature or relating to the status of this application or proceeding should be directed to the receptionist whose telephone number is (703) 308-0196.
